1. FROM THE CEO'S DESK: THE SUMMER NOBODY TAKES OFF

My grandfather never took a summer off. He called it the planting season and I finally understood what he meant.

He wasn't a wealthy man by any conventional measure. No portfolio, investment account. nor financial advisor on speed dial. But every summer, while others rested, he worked the ground. He turned soil, staked corners and showed up when the heat was highest and the competition was lowest.

He understood something that took me years to learn:

The season everyone avoids is the season that pays.

July is when serious land investors move quietly. While the world books flights and fills beaches, the market opens just slightly, just enough for the people paying attention. Sellers get more reasonable, timelines get more flexible and the land? The land doesn't change, it doesn't go on holiday nor doesn't lose value because the temperature climbed.

My grandfather called it planting season because he knew that what you put in the ground in summer, you harvest in winter.

This is your planting season.

The question isn't whether the land is ready.

It's whether you are.

With warmth,

Alkingbade Akinfenwa

"The average American household has a net worth of $1.06 million on paper. But median liquid savings money accessible within 30 days sits at just $8,000."

That gap between the number on paper and the options in real life is what the Freedom Audit measures.

2. WHILE YOU WERE AWAY

Summer hit, emails slowed, vacations happened and somewhere in North Texas between the heat shimmers and the county roads land quietly changed hands. That's the thing about land, it doesn't wait, it doesn't take July off. The deals that closed between Memorial Day and the Fourth of July weren't flashy, just money moving silently while the crowd was distracted.

Here's what the market did while you were away.

+4.6%

Northeast Texas
land price growth
YoY (Q2 2026, Texas
A&M TRERC)

+11.24%

Texas rural land 5-
year CAGR through
Q2 2026 (TRERC)

+21.6%

Northeast Texas
total dollar volume
increase — full year
2025 (Texas Farm Bureau)

What that means is that prices held while activity cooled. The 5-year compound growth rate sits at 11.24% well above historical norms and with interest rates expected to soften through late 2026, Texas A&M's own forecast projects total acres sold will begin climbing again in the second half of this year.

6 MARKETS. THE NUMBERS THAT MATTER.

These are the North Texas cities and counties where Landzille operates and where deals moved this summer.

| CITY / MARKET | COUNTY | AVG. PRICE/ACRE*     | MARKET SIGNAL                                  |
|---------------|--------|----------------------|------------------------------------------------|
| Leonard       | Fannin | $30,105             | ↑ Strong — DFW spillover, lake proximity       |
| Bonham        | Fannin | $28,400 – $32,000  | ↑ Active — county seat, highest listing volume |
| Honey Grove   | Fannin | $25,000 – $30,000  | ↑ Rising — near Bois d’Arc Lake corridor       |
| Roxton        | Lamar  | $28,000 – $30,000  | → Stable — quiet plays, ag-exempt inventory    |
| Wolfe City    | Hunt   | $75,000             | ↑ Active — 78mi from Dallas, hunt & ranchland  |
| Gainesville   | Cooke  | $84,000 – $105,000 | → Entry — I-35 corridor, development upside    |

Land doesn't mourn the people who almost bought it. It simply transfers from the hesitant to the decided, from the distracted to the disciplined. Every deal that closed this summer went to someone.

The only question is whether the next one goes to you.

3. DIRT MATH

Nobody gets rich guessing rather they get rich running the numbers and moving while everyone else is still debating. Texas rural land has compounded at 11.24% annually for five years straight consistently. While the stock market was throwing volatility tantrums and savings accounts were barely beating inflation, North Texas dirt was quietly doing its job, and the cost to hold it? With an agricultural exemption which most Landzille tracts qualify for, your annual tax bill on a 10-acre parcel can run under $150 a year.

| City               | County        | Avg. Price/Acre | 10-Acre Entry Cost | Projected Value in 3-5 Yrs* |
|--------------------|---------------|-----------------|--------------------|-----------------------------|
| Leonard     | Fannin | $30,105 | $301,050   | ~$860,000           |
| Bonham      | Fannin | $30,000 | $300,000   | ~$857,000           |
| Honey Grove | Fannin | $27,000 | $270,000   | ~$772,000           |
| Roxton      | Lamar  | $29,000 | $290,000   | ~$571,000           |
| Wolfe City  | Hunt   | $75,000 | $750,000   | $1,020,400          |
| Gainesville | Cooke  | $94,500 | $945,000   | ~$1,285,700         |

The Northeast Texas market appreciated 4.4% last year alone even as transaction volume hit its lowest point since 2013. With fewer buyers in the room, same appreciation. That's not a warning sign, it's an invitation. Texas A&M's own research center projects sales volume to rise again in the second half of 2026. When the crowd comes back, the entry prices you see in that table above won't exist anymore.

The dirt doesn't care about your timing hesitation, it just keeps compounding.

4. THE DASHBOARD THAT DOESN'T LIE

You don't need a spreadsheet to read a market, you need to know what to look for. Here are six things the North Texas land market is telling anyone willing to listen:

01 — SUPPLY IS THINNING

Listings are shrinking. Northeast Texas recorded its lowest sales volume since 2013 not because nobody wants land, but because serious holders aren't selling. Less supply with steady demand means one thing: the parcels available now are the ones worth moving on.

02 — PRICES DON'T NEGOTIATE WITH HESITATION

How long are you planning to wait?

Northeast Texas land appreciated 4.4% last year while the market was "slow." Imagine what happens when it heats up. The market has never rewarded waiting, it rewards positioning.

03 — THE AG EXEMPTION IS DOING HEAVY LIFTING

Do you know what it's saving you?

A properly structured ag-exempt tract can be held for under $150 a year in taxes on 10 acres. That's your carrying cost and the moat between you and every impatient investor who sold too soon.

04 — DFW IS STILL EXPANDING OUTWARD

Do you see where it's heading?

Dallas-Fort Worth is one of the fastest growing metros in America. It doesn't shrink, rather it sprawls northeast, toward Fannin, Hunt, Lamar, and Cooke counties. The land sitting in its path today is tomorrow's premium corridor.

05 — VOLUME IS ABOUT TO RETURN

Will you be in before the crowd?

Texas A&M projects land sales volume to rise again in the second half of 2026, when buyers return in numbers, entry prices close. The quiet window open right now is exactly that; a window, not a door left permanently open.

06 — LAND HAS NO OFF SWITCH

What else in your portfolio works while you sleep?

Stocks need watching, businesses need running. Land just sits there appreciating, holding, compounding. It just grows.

The dashboard is live. The signals are clear. The only variable left is you.

5. YOUR SUMMER BRIEF

The things nobody says out loud.

- » Nobody tells you that the county matters more than the listing. Every first-time buyer fixates on the parcel. The acreage, the photos, the price. The experienced ones start with the county. Fannin, Hunt, Lamar, Cooke; each one has a growth story. Know the story before you fall in love with the land.
- » Nobody tells you that the Ag exemption question is the most important one in the room. Not the price or size. The exemption; a qualifying tract in North Texas can slash your annual tax bill by up to 90%. That one question, asked early, is the difference between a smart hold and an expensive one.
- » Nobody tells you that quiet markets are generous ones, everyone waits for the buzz, the headlines, the feeding frenzy. But the best entry points have always looked like this: calm, understated, slightly overlooked. Northeast Texas land appreciated 4.4% last year in one of its quietest markets in a decade. Quiet does not mean slow, it means available.

- » Nobody tells you that patience is the whole strategy. There is no hack, shortcut or secret network. The investors winning in North Texas right now bought three, five, seven years ago and simply did not sell. Land compounds for the ones who stay and that is the entire playbook!
- » Nobody tells you that DFW's growth doesn't ask permission, it just moves: outward, northeast, toward every county in this magazine. You don't predict it, you position ahead of it and wait. The land sitting in its path today is not speculative. It is inevitable.
- » Nobody tells you that the first deal changes everything, not because it makes you rich immediately but because it makes you serious. Ownership sharpens your instincts in a way that reading never will. The first parcel is your entry into a different class of thinker: buy it, learn from it and build on it.

Now you know. The only thing left is to move.
